ABDUCTORS OF BILLY PARKER SENTENCED LAST NIGHT

IRISH BOUNDARY DISPUTE FORCES PARLIAMENT TO MEET EARLIER

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
London, Sept. 30.—Parliament re-assembled today after a seven week recess and its first business will be a deal between Ulster Province and the Irish Free State. Next it will take up the Anglo-Russian treaty.

Both these issues will test the strength of the Laborite Government. Premier Ramsay MacDonald has threatened to precipitate another General election if the treaty is repudiated.

Normally the House of Commons would have assembled October 28, but the growing seriousness of the Irish problem led to an earlier meeting.

It was expected that Premier MacDonald would move second reading of the bill empowering the Government to create a border commission without Ulster's consent before today's session ended. Despite the expected term of opposition from the tory "die hards" government leaders anticipate passage of the bill. The real difficulty will come when effort is made to enforce the decisions of the commission. After passage of the bill, Commons probably will take a recess for a fortnight. Then the Anglo-Russian treaty will be taken up. This will be the signal for another storm.

The bitter controversy over the Ulster-Free state frontier arose from Article 12 of the Anglo-Irish treaty, dated December 6, 1921. This article states that the boundary shall be drawn "in accordance with the wishes of the inhabitants, so far as may be compatible with economic and geographical conditions."

By EDWARD ALDEN JEWELL
Written Especially for International News Service

Dublin, Sept. 30.—Eamon de Valera, leader of the Irish Republicans, in an exclusive interview with International News Service today declared that Ulster must come under the jurisdiction of a Supreme Irish Parliament at Dublin. This is the first review granted by De Valera since his release from prison and it comes at a timely moment as the English Parliament met at London today to take up the Free State-Ulster Boundary dispute.

De Valera claims that a Republic already exists in Ireland. All Ireland he said, must be one sovereign state. "We will not admit that any part of the territory of this nation can be cut off from the national state," said the Republican chieftain. "The position of the Republican cabinet always has been this. We are willing to grant Ulster a parliament for its own local affairs with as large a measure of autonomy as is consistent with unity and the sovereignty of the Irish state. We are willing to give similar parliaments to Munster, Leinster and Connaught."

Legion Men Ordered Out To Move Into New Home At Seven o'clock Tonight

John Shade Post No. 6, American Legion of this city will move into their newly acquired permanent home this evening. The "zero hour" is set for seven o'clock and the buddies are all ready to go.

Trucks sufficient to move their furnishings and equipment from the third floor of the County National Bank building to the dimpling property will move promptly at the aforesaid hour. Every Legion member is hereby notified by order of Commander Leitzinger to be on the job to help move supplies to the new base of operations. Every man will be on K. P. duty until this job is done and let there be no A. W. O. L. in the bunch. Remember, Legion men, tonight at seven o'clock be on the job.

GREAT NATIONAL RALLY IS PLANNED FOR ALL CHURCHES

October 5th Is Date Set For Beginning Effort to Build Up Interest
Until Easter Holidays.

UP TO THE LAYMEN

Washington, Sept. 30.—To awaken a greater interest in the church on the part of all America is the object of the joint evangelistic campaign of many church bodies working under the leadership of the Commission on Evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches announced recently. It will be launched in most sections on Sunday, October 5, and continue till Easter.

The endeavor will be much wider than a "Go to Church" campaign, the necessity of church attendance will be stressed. Four things will be attempted by churches, taking part during the coming fall, winter and spring, according to church leaders. They are:

1. A friendly visitation to the homes of each community throughout the country.

2. A personal invitation to unaffiliated men and women to join the church.

3. A Rally Day to call back to the church from summer vacation all church members.

4. The training of laymen for personal evangelism.

October 5 has been suggested as Rally Day for the simultaneous launching of the program throughout the country. The findings and plans of the "evangelistic effort," decided upon at a retreat held by the Commission on Evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches at Northfield last June, have just been published. They were worked out during the summer by the denominational secretaries for evangelism and church leaders.

During recent years the period preceding Easter has come to be generally accepted as the time for concerted emphasis on strengthening the local congregation. The church leaders believe that there should be similar period of intensive effort this fall.

Under the plans sent to the churches, preliminary work will begin at once. Surveys will be made in a large number of communities by groups of churches or by single churches where there is only one or when one only takes part in the movement. Committees will work on lists of possible church members.

An effort will be made on "Rally Day" to secure the attendance of all members, adherents and those who have "lost interest" at the services and seek to interest them in church work.

This campaign will differ from most in that it will not be carried on by a visiting preacher or by the minister alone. It is proposed that the laymen shall do most of the work under the direction of the pastor.

In summing up the effort for Rally Day, Dr. Charles L. Goodell, secretary of the Federal Council's Commission on Evangelism, said the plan has two objectives:

"First, to re-interest the absentee church member who does not take church attendance seriously as a duty.

"Second, to secure the attendance of every possible person in the community who is not now a church member."

VISIT OLD HOME SCENES

Mrs. Victorine Rousselto, a former resident of Frenchville, and her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Preston, of Kansas City, Kansas, who were called east on account of the death of Mrs. Caroline Mulson, of Akron, Ohio, sister-in-law of Mrs. Russellto, came to this section after the funeral to visit relatives. While in Clearfield they stopped with Mrs. Russellto's nephew, John A. Leigey, on Nichols street, and left for home Monday.

Mrs. Russellto is enjoying excellent health despite her 86 years. This was her first visit here in thirty-one years.

Butler's Return To City Hall Delayed Till Friday; General Is Very Weak

Philadelphia, Sept. 30. (INS).—General Smedley D. Butler's return to city hall to hear his fate from Mayor Kendrick probably will not occur before Friday, according to the latest reports from his physician, Police Surgeon Hubley R. Owen.

The extent to which the general's activities in cleaning up Philadelphia have sapped his strength was indicated by the announcement the fighting marine now weighs only 118 pounds, a loss of 40 pounds since coming here.

General Butler's law enforcement activities were given great commendation last night when a resolution of praise was passed unanimously by 4,000 persons at the "town meeting" held to protest his dismissal as safety director.

The resolution, according to its wording, was passed "with the kindly intent of a friendly but aroused citizenry."

WASHINGTON JUST NATURALLY GOES 'BUGS' ON PENNANT

For 23 Years Loyal Capital Fans Have Been Looking Forward to Having a Flag Winner.

BOY MGR. A HERO

By GEORGE BARRY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Sept. 30.—This town is crazy—just gone plain, plumb baseball crazy.

For nearly a quarter of a century, 23 years to be exact, chief justices of the United States Supreme Court, members of a half dozen cabinets, senators whose names have been forgotten, and the myriad underpaid government clerks who make up the national capital, have been shoving their quarters, halves and dollars thru the wicket at American League, hall park hoping to see a Washington team that could do something besides get licked by seven other teams.

And now they've got a pennant winner. And a world's series. At last Washington is known for something else besides Presidents and monuments, scandals and income taxes, politicians and parades.

There is a Santa Claus, after all. And he has come to this town.

No longer will that ancient wheeze reverberate around the smoking car: Washington, oh, yes. First in peace, first in war, and last in the American League.

The town is crazy. If Bucky Harris, the 27-year-old manager of Washington's first pennant winning team, succeeds in out-guessing John McGraw and winning the world's series they might just as well transfer the national capital to Kokomo, Ind., for Washington won't be able to function as a regular national capital for years to come.

It was 4:42 p. m. when the wires carried the flash into Washington that the Nationals had won from the Red Sox at Boston and clinched the flag.

BETTING EVEN MONEY ON THE SERIES

New York, Sept. 30.—Little betting on the world series has been reported along Broadway to date but the consensus of opinion was that even money should be prevailing prices when play is called in the opening game. Professional gamblers were of the opinion that the Senators should be favorites at 6 to 5.

In support of this contention, one sizeable bet of $1,500 to $1,600 on Washington has been reported.

Mrs. Hall Given Indeterminate Sentence To Muncy Reformatory; Husband To Prison For 3 Years

Miss Anstead To Speak At Important Health Meeting At Altoona

Altoona, Sept. 30.—A greater effort to save some of the nearly 300 Pennsylvanians killed annually by tuberculosis through an extension of the Christmas Seal sale will be considered at a conference to be held in Altoona at the Penn-Alto on Wednesday, October 1st.

This conference will be under the direction of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society and consideration will be given to plans for the 1924 sale of Christmas Seals through which the citizen effort against the white plague is carried on.

Rev. Frank T. Cady, of Tyrone, will preside, and among the speakers will be Dr. Philip P. Jacob, publicity director of the National Tuberculosis Association; Col. Henry W. Shoemaker, of Altoona; C. O. Smith, of Mt. Union; Mrs. C. E. Brown, Johnstown; Mrs. C. W. Montgomery, Altoona; Mrs. Ralph M. Wilson, Blairsville; Miss Stella E. Anstead, Clearfield. County tuberculosis societies in Blair, Cambria, Somerset, Bedford, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, Huntingdon and Mifflin are to be represented.

BRING THE BABIES

There were twenty-five babies weighed, measured, and examined two weeks ago at the East End Baby Clinic.

We want even more brought in to the clinic tomorrow at the East End House. Mothers, bring your children of pre-school age, between two and four o'clock.

THE RED CROSS.

Nothing Unusual About This Treatment For Law Breakers In This Age

New York, Sept. 30. (INS).—The sight of his own blood from a trifling wound today transformed a tough, hard-boiled burglar into a cry-baby and lost for him $25,000 worth of jewels with which he might easily have escaped.

The hold-up was in the zone in which there have been so many similar jewel thefts in the last two weeks that the residents are in perpetual alarm—the fashionable upper East Side.

The robber had P. H. Higgins, Jr., prosperous broker and two friends at bay in the Higgins apartment house in East End street.

As the thief was about to escape, his small pistol was discharged accidentally. Blood began to seep from a minor thigh wound.

At the sight of the crimson, the burglar grew faint, sank to the floor and broke into tears, begging his victims who now were his captors and did not quite realize it, not to be too hard on him, since he had to support a sister married to a man who would not work.

His victims thoughtfully picked up his pistol and turned it on the intruder, after which they soothed him and bade him dry his tears.

They lifted him tenderly into bed, put a nightgown on him, dressed his wound and applied restoratives, after which they told him he might escape. The burglar, however, insisted that he was in a bad way and be taken to a hospital. His hosts complied and he was carried to the Roosevelt Hospital, where the wound was found to be of so little consequence that it will not interfere with his being arraigned late this afternoon in court.

The prisoner said he was Paul Doyle, 18 years old.

WASHOUT OF BRIDGE AT SCRANTON FATAL TO 2, PROBABLY 3

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 30. (INS).—Search was on today for the bodies of two men and a woman believed to have been swept to their deaths at Permyr last night when a bridge over Rush River was washed away by the flood waters caused by the heavy rain of yesterday.

The men, Samuel Langman, prominent business man, and his brother-in-law, Emory Avery, were known to have been on the bridge along with a half dozen others when it was carried away. Conflicting stories, however, are told by the survivors about the woman believed to have perished. Her identity is not known.

Wm. Forkell, a survivor, is at a local hospital suffering from a broken leg received when he was carried down stream 100 yards and hurled against an obstruction in the stream before being rescued.

The victims were standing on the bridge watching the rush of the angry waters when it collapsed. The water was not above the river bank and the collapse was wholly unexpected.

Heavy damage was also reported from Carbondale, 15 miles away, where it has been raining steadily for 24 hours this morning. No lives were lost but the water was reported pouring into the mines of the Hudson Company.

PENNSY. GRAMS

Lewistown—E. E. Davis, Deputy warden of the western penitentiary at Rockview was held responsible by a coroner's jury for the death of John Mullen, who was shot and killed during an alleged drinking party last Friday.

A first degree murder verdict will be asked when Davis' trial comes up, the District Attorney announced.

Homestead—"Labriating oil" in barrels is in the hands of prohibition officers today. The Volstead law officials found 100 barrels marked "oil" in a freight car yesterday. The contents were investigated. The barrels were shipped from Philadelphia according to divisional prohibition chief, G. J. Simons.

Huntingdon—The Hertzler and Zook plant, manufacturing farm implements at Belleville near here was in ruins today. Fire of unknown origin caused a loss to the plant of about $400,000 last night.

Philadelphia—Isaac Grinage, colored, was arrested here last night charged with being one of the bandits who murdered Jonathan Klop, when he discovered them robbing his store at Robesonia last week. Police say Grinage confessed as did two other men now being held at Reading in connection with the crime. Grinage is accused of being the man who fired the fatal shot.

Philadelphia—Two alleged go-go ringleaders start sentences of 10 years each in the county jail today. The men, Nicholas and Louis Cimilli, were sentenced by Judge McDevitt yesterday. They were captured after fleeing to Takoma, Wash.

Philadelphia—Because Mayor Kendrick "sighted" him by not asking his participation in the welcome to President Coolidge on his recent visit here to speak at the Carpenters Company celebration, Col. John H. Muckle resigned today as the city's official interpreter. Col. Muckle was appointed chairman of the Citizens' reception committee when the Mayor assumed office.

Mrs. T. A. Cramer received by express yesterday a box of fine apples which her son Ted picked from his uncle's ranch in the middle west. He will arrive today after spending three weeks in Mackinaw and Reed City, Cadillac and Grand Rapids, Mich.

Little Time Was Lost After Jury Selected In Determining Guilt and Imposing Punishment.

JURY OUT AN HOUR

The kidnaping case against Mr. and Mrs. Hall and the latter's father, Cyrus Fauzey, was disposed of in criminal court yesterday, it requiring a night session before the verdict was returned.

Cyrus Fauzey was found to be a victim of circumstances and as there was no evidence to show that he even knew little Billy Parker, who was found in the old man's possession at the hunting camp, had been kidnaped or abducted, the Commonwealth agreed that he should be allowed to go free before a verdict was rendered.

At the noon recess but eight of the twelve jury men had been chosen. It did not take long after court called in the afternoon to get the needed four. The following composed the jury:

The jury which decided the fate of the abductors was made up as follows:

Orbas Flood, of Covington twp.; Albert Herring, of Gulch twp.; U. B. Bishop, of Bradford twp.; J. B. Allen, of Gulch twp.; Harry Jasper, of Beccaria twp.; L. Z. Smeal, of Pike twp.; E. A. Beigleman, of Bradford twp.; John W. Kriner, of DuBois; Paul F. Beck, of DuBois; Frank Falls, of Sandy twp.; Charles I. Sawyer, of Jordan twp.; Charles Daisher, of Bell twp.

The testimony was brief on both sides. Mrs. Florence Parker told the story of Mrs. Hall's coming to the Children's Home last March and prevailing upon the mother to allow her to take the child to her home near Big Run for a few days. The manner of her acquisition of little Billy made the kidnaping charge impossible to maintain and the jury was informed that Mr. and Mrs. Hall could be held for but abduction alone, the second count in the indictment against them.

District Attorney Arnold and J. Mitchell Chase were the prosecuting attorneys and soon had their evidence before the court and jury. The attorneys for the defense, Messrs. Clarence Kramer and Ross Pentz were equally speedy and all the testimony was in by 5:15 o'clock, at which time Attorney Kramer began his argument for the defense. He was followed by Mr. Chase for the prosecution, after which Judge Chase made his charge to the jury. The jury was given the case at 7:30 o'clock and retired to the jury room to begin their deliberations. They were a little more than two hours in arriving at their verdict. The found both Mr. and Mrs. Hall guilty of abduction.

Judge Chase summoned the prisoners to the bar and sentenced them at once. Hall was directed to pay $1.00 fine and costs and serve not less than three and one-half nor more than seven years in the penitentiary. Mrs. Hall was given an indeterminate sentence at the State Industrial Home at Muncy.

The Hall's were cleaned up and better dressed when they appeared in court than when they were brought in from the mountain berry patches at the time of their arrest, and did not appear to be the least bit worried or excited about it. Hall was dolled up in the clothes of one of the colored prisoners at the jail, who volunteered his "glad rags" to the abductor in order that he might present a respectable front when called before the court. A woman prisoner was similarly kind to Mrs. Hall.

After being placed in jail Mrs. Hall told a Progress reporter that "while she did not want her husband punished by being sent to jail, no person knew what she had gone through."

BREAK AVERTED IN DISPUTE WITH JAPS ON PEACE PROGRAM

Geneva, Sept. 30. (INS).—The Japanese dispute which threatened to wreck the League of Nations peace plans was virtually settled today when Japan and Australia accepted a compromise formula dealing with the aggressor clause of the arbitration protocol.

The formula in question which is based upon Article XI of the League of Nations covenant, was carefully examined at a secret meeting of British, French and Japanese delegates. Article XI deals with international dangers wherein war is threatened. This formula gives Japan the constitutional right, under the League covenant, to appeal to the League council if she believes war is threatened. It gives other members of the League the same right.

An amendment will be drawn, based upon the formula, for insertion in the arbitration protocol.

Beary Is To Supervise The Distribution Of War With Germany Cannons

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 30. (INS).—Appointment of a committee headed by Adjutant General Frank D. Beary to supervise distribution of the captured German war material was made today by Governor Pinchot.

The committee will meet soon. Adjutant General Beary announced, to pass on the scores of requests from citizens, towns, boroughs, village posts and patriotic societies for a portion of the captured war trophies. Cannon, howitzers and siege guns are especially sought.

The seven members of the commission served with the various Pennsylvania units in the world war. The selection was made with a view of giving the largest number of ex-soldiers representation on the board through their former officers. It was indicated towns, boroughs and cities will be given preference over organizations.

1,000 Feet Of Reading Roadbed Swept Out By Flood Near Harrisburg

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 30. (INS).—One thousand feet of the Reading railroad roadbed through Clark's valley was washed away today by Stony Creek, which went on a rampage flooding the entire valley and isolating several villages.

Hundreds of telephone poles and several bridges across the creek were washed away, destroying all communication with Singerville, a little town in the valley, fourteen miles from here.

Walkenmyer's dam is threatened hourly by the ever rising stream. The valley for more than a mile is covered with water in places twenty feet deep. Many farms bordering the valley are under water and thousands of dollars worth of crops and livestock endangered.

At ten o'clock this morning 3.5 in. was still pouring. The Susquehanna ches of rain had fallen here and it river has been rising a foot an hour and if the rain continues, the weather man says there is danger of a serious flood.

All the tributaries of the Susquehanna in this region are beyond their banks.

Many summer cottages are reported to be under water along Stony Creek, Yellow Breeches and the Conodoginet.

with him during the past couple of years and she would like very much to have him out of her life." Her wish has been granted for three and one-half years at least. Hall served a term in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., for abducting and something to do with the severity of his sentence this time.

WHY IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRADE IN CLEARFIELD

Think of the dire consequences if we should all send to the mail-order houses for our luxuries and our necessities. How long would it be before the Clearfield merchants would have the "Closing out sale" signs on their doors, to be followed by the "For Sale" signs on the stores themselves. And when the business houses were all advertised for sale what would be the result, what would be the value of our own houses and lands?

Of course such a calamity will not prevail in Clearfield because we have enough loyal citizens who would prevent it. But that does not excuse those of us who are following this practice of sending our money to the big cities. Chicago merchants' money does not pave Clearfield streets. Schools, churches, streets and all city improvements in Clearfield are not made and never will be made by Chicago merchants. The more money there is in Clearfield the less the tax rate will be. Money sent to Chicago, New York and other large cities increases the wealth there with a corresponding decrease here.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Leif Ericson Day will be observed on October 4 in many parts of the country in honor of the Iclander who discovered our country in the year 1000, landing in New England, which he called Vinland.

A letter written in 1823 by Noah Webster, author of the dictionary which is said to have prevented the United States from becoming a nation speaking many dialects, in which the writer refers to his plans to secure a reception for his work in England, has been given out by John Stort Thompson, of Jersey City.

The communication, which is described as hitherto unpublished, was addressed to Charles R. Webster, a cousin of Noah, and was found by Mr. Thompson among the papers of the cousin. It reads as follows:

New Haven, Sept. 24, 1823

Dear Sir:
"I expected you would call upon me the morning you left New Haven, but you disappointed me and I must write what I want to say to you. You must have heard that I have been many years in compiling a complete dictionary of our language. My researches have been laborious and extensive, and I thing fruitful in discoveries. As I am drawing toward the conclusion of the work, I think of going to England next summer to revise and complete the work and try to obtain a reception of it in that country."

But my resources are too scanty for such an undertaking and I want to avail myself of all my extra means. I have on hand a new book of my own publishing, entitled 'Letters to a Young Gentleman Concerning His Education,' some of which I think may be sold in Albany. The retail price is $1.75, the work being a thin octavo. The sheet price is ninety cents, and for a hundred or more I would say eighty cents. Now, Sir, will not Webster and Skinner assist me by taking 100 or 200, either bound or in sheets; bound at $1.29, in sheets at eighty cents? If you will, it will very much oblige me.

My dictionary has cost me twenty-six years of labor and about $30,000. If I succeed I shall reimburse myself and be able to compensate all my friends for their advances. If I should fail, I shall be left in my old age with all means for subsistence. Please to present our kind respects to Mrs. W. and other friends.

Yours with affection and respect, ing child welfare and care of the poor in Pennsylvania is urged by a committee investigating treatment of dependent and delinquent children in Pennsylvania for the Child Welfare Division of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania.

According to investigations, there are approximately 96,000 dependents and delinquent children in the State, of which only 20,793 are in charge of institutions; seventy-five per cent of these are in care of institutions not receiving State aid. In addition to these, more than 81,000 are placed in homes other than their own, including 4422 delinquents and more than 27,000 dependents. Almost 2000 are paroled to correctional schools; approximately 16,000 are cared for by the State fund for mothers' assistance, and approximately 15,000 are in care of probation officers.

In various counties, the committee reports, children of one and two years are placed in the almshouse, and most of the older children committed to the county homes lack suitable education because the amounts granted by boards of poor directors are not sufficient to bear tuition and maintenance costs. After only cursory examination, the report says, many of the children are held to be feeble-minded and retained in county almshouses. The indenture system is still followed in some counties, where the children are bound out, usually to farmers, to be supported until 16, 18 or 21 years of age in return for such labor as the farmer may be able to obtain from the children. There is little inspection to see whether the children have been suitably placed, the report finds, because as a rule officers in charge are very poorly paid for

Such a bathroom is a source of pleasure to the family and a matter of pride to the heads of the house. It also adds both distinction and value to the house. We shall be glad to tell you about the cost of such a lavatory and toilet. It is not so great as you may think.

LEARN TO RECOGNIZE FATIGUE

Warning that fatigue involves dangerous complications oftentimes resulting in a nervous breakdown, is sounded by Dr. J. H. Arnett, Philadelphia, in a weekly health talk prepared in co-operating with the State Department of Health.

"If someone were to tell you seriously that you did not know when you were tired," says Dr. Arnett, "you no doubt would be inclined to receive this piece of information in much the same spirit as though you had been told that you did not know enough to come in out of the rain."

"But this is a fact, as many physicians can testify. Frequently they encounter an inability on the part of their patients to recognize the symptoms of fatigue."

"Fatigue visits the human race in various and sundry guises. 'The blues', 'a grouchy', 'nervousness', 'headaches', 'dizziness', 'faintness', and many other diverse sensations of discomfort may be due to fatigue. Strangely enough fatigue fills some people with nervous energy, so that the more tired they become, the less they can be persuaded to rest."

Proper precaution when fatigue is recognized is just as important as a realization that you are tired, the doctor said.

COOLIDGE AND LABOR

The action of the New Jersey State Federation of Labor in refusing to concur to the action of Samuel Gompers and the American Federation of Labor, proves conclusively that the time is past when Labor will vote as directed. The laboring man of the present is well able to think for himself and will go to the polls in November and vote as his own thoughts indicate.

That the Republican party is a traditional friend of Labor is a fact that has been brought to the realization of every laboring man in the country through the long list of favorable Labor Bills legislated during the terms of Presidents Harding and Coolidge, and the following excerpt from a letter written by Joseph P. MacArdle, head of the Labor Bureau, Eastern Division, of the Republican National Committee, to W. G. Lee, Chairman of the Brotherhood of R. R. Trainmen, tells in its own sincere way just where President Coolidge stands and has stood; since the time of his first entering public office, on the question of favorable Labor legislation:

"I was further pleased to attend this meeting at the 'White House', with a good sized party of members in good standing in the various Labor organizations, (established in every instance without a 'Pump' organization of any kind or description being represented) and listen to the best address which has been delivered on the Labor question since Lincoln made his famous address on a similar question at New Haven, Conn., in 1860. It is true that most of the men present held, in their respective organizations, humble positions comparatively, and from that of local chairmen, business agents, to vice-presidents, and coming from down on the ground floor close to those they represent in every day contact, they heard the story from the lips of the President, and took it back home to all sections—a story that will go down in the annals of history in America as being the broadest and most liberal recognition of the rights of American labor unions as ever came from the lips of a chief executive of our country, AND THE NEXT PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, CALVIN COOLIDGE. Labor never had a better friend at the White House, and no man who ever graced the chair of the Chief Executive of State in our country, who ever proved a better or more sincere friend of men engaged in train and switching service on our railroads than President Coolidge in his capacity as Governor of Massachusetts, and the records prove this absolutely. I want to congratulate you on the neutral stand you have taken as the President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and your recognition of the free-born American right of the membership to vote according to their honest convictions."

The Test Of Character

The president of a big corporation gave this reason why his company employed salesmen on a commission basis only:

"It's the best test of character we can apply. If a man hasn't saved enough money to carry himself for a month or so he's rarely the kind who can measure up to the opportunity we offer."

Why not take a fixed amount out of your salary every pay day and put it to work in an interest bearing account at this bank? It will then enable you to grasp opportunity when it comes.

Pay yourself first—it's the sensible thing to do.

GYM. RALLY FOR BOYS TONIGHT

All is set for the opening of the gym classes at the Y. M. C. A. this week and next as announced by physical director Shannon today. To start things going the younger boys from twelve to fourteen hold sway tonight when a gym rally will be staged giving every boy in Clearfield between the above ages the privilege of taking part in a two hour program of social games and swimming. Nearly four hundred tags have been passed out by the Y boys who have engaged in a contest during the past few days in which the boy having the most of his tickets returned will be awarded a gift Y. M. C. A. pen. In addition to wearing his tag, every boy should bring with him a pair of old stockings or socks and a towel. No one will be allowed on the gym floor with street shoes. There will be some older boys on the job and a full supervision will be given every ill, in the swimming pool. The program will be as a surprise and will not be announced before hand.

The older boys including the Business boys and Intermediates and their friends will start activities on Thursday night with a special program in the gymnasium. No special request has been made but all members have the privilege of asking their friends to come with them and enjoy the evening in the gym and swimming pool.

The Junior girls will meet on Friday afternoon at 2:35. Exits at 7:30 and the Cadets Saturday morning at 9. The Young Business men on Monday afternoon at 5. Seniors at 8. Intermediate girls Tuesday at 4. Business Men at 5. Free is admitted to the first class session free.

FRISCH AND GROH STEADILY IMPROVING

New York, Sept. 30 (INS).—The condition of Frank Frisch and Heinie Groh, injured infielders of the New York Giants, was reported today as improving. Frisch is regarded as an almost certain starter at second base for the Giants in Saturday's opening game but Groh's ability to play will not be ascertained until he attempts to place some strain on his injured leg.

In the event that Groh fails to round up, Fred Lindstrom, recruit infielder, will occupy third base.

BARNIE KINKHEAD WINS BOWLING FIRST DAY

The Community Y. M. C. A. Bowling Alleys made a splendid start for the opening day of the bowling season with 26 different contests for the first day. Barnie Kinkhead won the afternoon Lloyd Shankle made 145 in his second game which held until at night when R. W. Kinkhead came in lead with 187 for high single. Elmer Warner and J. R. Williams in the following game had aspirations for the prize but finished out with 171 and 153 respectively. The triangle problem was awarded to R. W. Kinkhead.

Several experienced bowlers declared the alleys to be exceptionally fast to start the season, in fact, the balls literally lit down the alleys, and the Hooks and Curves did not have much effect. This with the fact that new pins, that reflected on the polished alleys, were hard to knock down. But ask Ralph Kinkhead how to do it; he succeeded in knocking them down nine times out of ten, with three strikes and nine par.

The alleys will continue open from 4 to 6 and 7 to 10 p. m. and if the call warrants it, continuously from 4 to 10; Saturdays open at 1:30. Tournaments will be popular against this season, one man having his Industrial team already lined up the plan is to hold the Community Church League previous to the Community Industrial League in Bowling.

She Threw Away Calomel and took Beecham's Pills

"I felt so miserable," said the young woman cashier in a fashionable New Jersey hotel. "A friend suggested calomel and I was about to take it."

"Another friend noticed the calomel on my desk and cautioned me against it. She said her sister took calomel and ate some fruit and the combination 'salivated' her—loosened some of her teeth and made her very sick."

"Fearing that my stomach might be in an acid condition, I bought a 25c box of Beecham's Pills and took a dose. The next day I felt fine and I haven't needed anything during the three weeks since."

"I wouldn't take anything but Beecham's now. Some of the other girls here take Beecham's and all say they are wonderful."

Washington Just Naturally Goes 'Bugs'

It had been raining all day, a cold, heavy downpour that penetrated with the chill of winter.

Yet in front of three electric score boards, before as many newspaper offices, stood thousands of people, watching the flickering lights that told of the end of the quarter century of waiting for a winner. They took their drenching stoically. They cheered dully as the Nats went into the lead, and groaned dismally when Boston threatened. And then, when the flash came, the downtown section horns tooted, whistles shrieked.

No President, no princely potentate, no king, no frock coated foreign minister has ever been received with more acclaim than Bucky Harris and his baseball team are going to be received when they arrive here on Wednesday to prepare for the series. It sounds exaggerated, but it's true.

Historic Pennsylvania Avenue, which has reverberated to the great parades in history, which has seen Grant's men home from the wars, the inaugural parades of all Presidents, and the classic military and naval processions of the nation, will at last witness a baseball parade. And in the reviewing stand, just as for other great processions, will be the President of the United States to bid welcome to the home comers.

The calvary from Fort Myer, across the Potomac is going to turn out. At the head of the procession will be 12 beautiful debs of Washington society, mounted on 12 white chargers. And there will be scarlet coated huntsmen from the Hunt clubs. And automobiles, and back of these thousands of marchers on foot.

That's what the national capital thinks of winning a baseball pennant. They're going to give Walter Johnson, the veteran pitching ace of the Nats, a limousine, raised by popular subscription. The dollars of the cabinet officers and the dimes of girl clerks in the government departments want to buy that machine. And Harris and the rest are going to get theirs, too.

Rain or shine, it will make no difference in the welcome to the Nats, for in the size of the crowd that will see the first game of the world's series next Saturday. The weather man was dubious today. He wouldn't forecast fair weather. It probably would be "unsettled," he said. But damp weather is no dampener for Washington's baseball spirit. That's already been proven.

Offices of the club are swamped with applications for tickets. The park is not large, and there will be difficulty in finding accommodations for all those who are demanding tickets.

But Washington doesn't care. It has a pennant winner—after 23 years.

MICKLEY WALKER A FAVORITE

Philadelphia, Sept. 30 (INS).—Mickley Walker is favored to retain his world's welterweight title tonight in a ten round bout with Bobby Barrett, local contender. The fight is to an official decision and although made at catch weights, Barrett plans to enter the ring at 147 pounds and thus qualify for the title if he beats Walker.

The betting, however, is all in favor of the champion.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL MARRIES

Miss Malessa Shacklett and Mr. Green, of Louisville, Ky., were married Sept. 20, 1924. Miss Shacklett lived in Clearfield for several years and made many friends while here. Mr. and Mrs. Green will reside in Louisville.

Bob Gray, the storage battery man, is running around with his good right arm in a sling, the result of an accident at the dinner table the other day. We have "Hobe" White's authority for the statement that Bob in a hurry to get his dinner over, sunk his table lamp into the biggest potato on the dish. The darn thing rolled with him and his arm was wrenched in the tussle.

SLIGHT MOTOR TROUBLE DEVELOPS ON ZR3

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 30. (INS).—Fresh motor trouble developed on the Zeppelin ZR-3 which will delay the departure of the giant ship for the United States. It had been hoped to start for Lakehurst, N. J., about next Sunday. The dirigible will be turned over to the United States navy at Lakehurst.

The motor trouble, which is similar to the recent defection, was discovered while the airship was being carefully overhauled.

Former King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, who is here visiting the Zeppelin plant, expressed intense admiration for the ZR-3. After looking the giant airship over, he exclaimed:

"I wish I could fly to America upon this ship."

Rheumatism

"Yes! it's all gone."

DO NOT close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. You can get rid of your rheumatism by building up your blood power. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful, than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

She is survived by her husband and six children. The funeral will be held from the Friends Church at Grampian Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment in Friends cemetery.

Constipation can ruin your health—get permanent relief with Kellogg's Bran

When clean and clear, the intestine is converting wholesome food into vigorous health. But when clogged by constipation, it generates poisons from the obstructed food that can lead to many serious diseases.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It has a natural, healthy action. It works exactly as nature acts. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer will return your money.

Results with Kellogg's Bran are sure, for Kellogg's is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is endorsed by doctors everywhere. Eat it and you need never take another habit-forming drug or pill.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, should be eaten regularly—at least two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. You will enjoy eating it. Kellogg's Bran has a wonderful flavor. And this flavor is an exclusive Kellogg achievement.

There are many ways to enjoy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Eat it with milk or cream as a cereal. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it, with hot cereals. Look for the red dot on every package and try it in muffins, griddle cakes, bran bread, etc.

Bring back your health with Kellogg's Bran. Start to-day! Every member of your family should eat it. The leading hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. It is made in Battle Creek, Sold by all grocers.

WARMTH

tells the true story of the Cozy Glow!

At the turn of the switch, the burnished copper bowl pours forth a glorious flood of chill-devouring heat that seals the doom of discomfort.

It is light in weight so that it may be quickly carried to every wintry stronghold.

Grandmother in her easy chair, baby at his bath, the children in their play-room, mother drying her hair; everyone in the family, wherever there is chill to be chased, finds the Cozy Glow indispensable.

The Cozy Glow stands 18-in. high.

Finished in fine black lacquer.

Copper parts highly burnished.

Like the shifting sands on the seashore, the little ads in the Progress classified section are always changing, always new.

The classified columns are not the same as they were yesterday. Ads that brought results have disappeared, new ones have taken their places, and a fresh assortment of wants and offers is presented for your inspection.

There are some opportunities offered to-day that were not there yesterday—some that will be gone tomorrow—some that you cannot afford to miss.

Get the habit of turning to the classifications that interest you every day—read them regularly for your profit and satisfaction.

When you have a proposition to make to the thousands of people who keep in touch with the Progress classified columns, call H. & C. 76 or Bell 47 and ask for an advertiser.

HAWAII AS THIS SOLDIER SEES IT

Fort Ruger, Honolulu, Hawaii, August 14, 1924.
Mr. J. D. Connelly, Dear Sir:

The few things I am going to say in this short letter may and may not interest you and you can use your own good judgement as to printing it. In the first place I will introduce myself. I am a member of the 56th Coast Artillery which is the main coast defense of Hawaii, having both fixed and motorized artillery. My name is Melvin C. Nelson, and I hail from Clearfield Pa.

Some time ago I received a clipping from your Column entitled "Soldiering in Hawaii." In it, among other things, was the statement that there had been several indications of an earthquake on the Island of Oahu, which is the U. S. Army base of Hawaii. But as to an earthquake, there is not now has there been any signs of one here since the arrival of the U. S. Army in Hawaii.

There is an active volcano on the Island of Hawaii, off the Hila Bay, which is over 100 miles from here. The lava flow from it is constant but its greatest activity is in escaping steam and gas. One can advance over the lava beds to within a very short distance of it.

And as to the climate here I must say that it is about the most agreeable of any place I have been in and especially this far south. The position of the Island of Oahu is about 156 degrees latitude and about 23 degrees longitude. You will notice that is not much south of San Francisco, and while I was here I found it the most disagreeable climate I had ever encountered. Fort Ruger is situated about one mile from Honolulu, and is right at the base of an old crater which is just like a large amphitheatre. Inside are batteries of field defenses and also a very convenient rifle range. It is called "Diamond Head," and is the most westerly position of the United States.

The saying that Honolulu is the "Paradise of the Pacific" is not all bunk, if not all true. I can't say anything bad about it from my own experience, as I do not look for the bad but the good of the place. Of course one becomes used to seeing the native Hawaiians in their peculiar dress and there are many Japs and Portuguese; not many Chinese so far as I have seen.

There are many bad streets in the City of Honolulu, but one can avoid such places without any trouble. Well, as I have no more time today, I will close, hoping you will find room in your column for this.

Mrs. Walter Doughman of Gram-pian, died in the Clearfield hospital Sunday evening from a complication of diseases, aged 56 years. Her body was brought to the morgue, where it was prepared for burial. She was survived by her husband and a family of grown children. Her funeral was held this afternoon from the Vienna Church. She was a daughter of George Willett, a former Curwensville resident, now of McCormick, Pa.

H. B. Thompson received word yesterday morning announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. William Ten Eyck, which occurred on Monday morning at home in St. James, Mo., aged 86. She was a daughter of John and Sarah Hartsock Thompson, and was born and reared in Curwensville, Pa. She was in about the year 1840. She is survived by two sons and two daughters, also by three brothers and one sister, namely: H. B. Thompson, of Clearfield, Pa.; Frank Thompson, of Clearfield, Pa.; George Simpson, of St. James, Mo.; and her funeral was held from her home today.

James Norris left last Thursday for Baltimore, where he entered as a student at the University of Maryland on a business course.

Tate and wife and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Tate, left on Sunday for a day auto trip stopping at different points of interest in the north part of the state.

James Samp and son and Miss Mary Thompson, all of Buffalo, came on Saturday and the two first named guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Norris out on the farm. Miss Thompson is stopping with her brother, Howard Thompson.

Bernard Myer and bride came in on their honeymoon trip yesterday morning, and have established themselves in rooms in the Horabauhaus where their friends will receive a hearty welcome.

J. R. Mullen, employed in a responsible position on state highway construction work near Wilkes, Pa., is over Sabbath with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mullen, 124 Walnut street.

George C. Fleming and wife were in Buffalo and Niagara Falls over Sunday, going there on the excursion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly, two sons Alfred and Blair, and Miss Erma Hallman motored to Warren, Ohio, last Friday and remained in that city with friends until Sunday evening.

All members of the P. H. C. are requested to be present at a meeting to be held on next Friday evening. The supreme president of the order, Mr. Good, will be present at that time.

Dr. Miles Wall and wife took occasion last week and motored to Ebensburg, spending several days at the county fair.

Misses Janette Eckles and Jean Sample, who spent all of last week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Dornan, East George street, left for their respective homes in Mechanicsburg, Pa.

WE NAMED WRONG KIDDO

In our story of the award of the prizes at the baby show during the fair there was one mistake. As the winner of the second prize boy baby we were given the name of Robert Norris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lex Norris, of Gulch avenue. Despite the fact that we knew no such family (and we used to be able to boast that we knew everybody and everybody's cow and dog in the town) we were entirely too gallant or modest to contrary our informer and gave that name as the second prize winner.

Imagine our distress when we found we did a rank injustice to Master Robert Leland Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lex Miller, who walked off with that prize and had been kicking up his heels in glee over that fact ever since the judges made their announcement.

We humbly beg Bobbie's pardon.

"SIMON CALLED PETER"

"Simon Called Peter," a play of love, war and religion by Jules Eckert Goodman and Edward Knoblock from the novel of that name by Robert Keable, will be presented at the Driggs Theatre Tuesday, October 7th, under the management of William A. Brady.

The play, like the book, deals with actual conditions as found by an English curate who goes behind the lines in France as a war-pedro. How it finds a new sphere of life, a new type of woman and how he himself is carried into the whirlwind life of "Tommy" looking for pleasure and into the arms of love and passion are some of the things set forth in this dramatization of the novel.

The heroine of the play is Julie Gamelyn, a lovable optimistic war nurse whose charms are most alluring to the officers and men of the army who are put in her environment. This most realistic character is enacted by Catherine Willard who gains the love and endearment of every man who craves a woman's love, intoxication, wayward fancy and tenderness.

Noel Tearle portrays the war-pedro, Peter Graham, in a way that makes the part as described in the book most life-like. Among others in the cast are: June Webster, Wilfred Jessop, John Gray, Barlow Boreland, Robert Cecil, Jacqueline du Roidier, H. Tyrrell Davis, Richard de Silva, Dorothy Bertram.

ster and Connaught if the people of these provinces desire them. "But all must accept and operate under the sovereign jurisdiction of one supreme parliament to which will be reserved certain well-defined national powers. There can be only one sovereign Irish state." DeValera clearly indicated his belief that the free state is tottering and that the next general election would result in the return of a majority of Republicans to the Dail Eireann.

"From our point of view the Anglo-Irish treaty and all that has flowed from it is illegal," continued DeValera. "The Republic is the only legitimately established state in Ireland. We deny the right of foreign-derived authority in this country. With a Republican majority we would ignore all such authority and resist every effort at interference by foreigners."

DeValera said the Republicans elected to the Dail Eireann would refuse to take the oath. He declared if the Republicans obtained a majority in the Dail Eireann they would assume power and that in the future the Dail Eireann would function as a Republican body.

Although DeValera did not make a direct statement, he clearly indicated that he and the other Republicans intend for the present to rely upon constitutional methods and the ballot box to put themselves in power.

field on their farms.

But E. M. Thompson, farmer extraordinary, of Home, Indiana county, is saying just that about his pasture which was rebuilt according to the latest scientific principles and with the aid of his county agent and State College agricultural extension specialists.

Thompson plowed his old pasture of 14 acres in the fall, two years ago. It had not been worth much before that. He applied about two tons of lime and 200 pounds of acid phosphate to the acre. He drilled about two and a half bushels of oats per acre together with a seed mixture of timothy, red top, blue grass, white clover, red clover and alsike. The out-crop was a dandy and a fine stand of pasture was obtained.

Fourteen Jersey cattle and 20 head of sheep have been unable to keep the grass eaten off since the first of June. County Agent J. N. Warner says that it is doubtful if Thompson will have to put any more expense on his pasture for the next 10 or 15 years.

BRUBAKER, ESCAPED CONVICT, CAUGHT AT HIS MOTHER'S HOME

Lewistown, Pa., Sept. 30 (INS.)—Harry Brubaker, who escaped from the Western penitentiary at Bellefonte, Sept. 21, was captured at Shawnee, near here this morning by County Detective M. A. Davis and two railroad detectives.

Search for the prisoners had never stopped since his escape. Scores of homes here were raided when Brubaker was thought hiding in them.

Today the officers went to Shawnee on a "tip" broke down the door of the home of Brubaker's mother, and found the wanted man hiding in the attic. A supply of food and water sufficient to last the man several days was found.

Brubaker was the man for whom E. E. Davis, Deputy warden of the Penitentiary was searching, when he killed John Mullen last Friday.

Stabbed Husband With Ice Pick To Ward Off His Drunken Attack

Pittsburg Pa., Sept. 29 (INS.)—Mrs. Margaret Gardner, 22, widow of Edward R. Gardner, 38, whose nude body was found in the bathroom of their home here yesterday, was released under $10,000 bail this afternoon. Mrs. Gardner was released by order of Coroner W. J. McGregor after she had been closely questioned concerning her husband's death.

McGregor and police authorities declared their belief in Mrs. Gardner's story that she was forced to stab Gardner with an ice pick to protect herself from his drunken attack.

During the potato stealing the thief dropped his white ivory comb, which he can get by calling at the Tate home and promising that he will never steal another potato. He is some potato eater and Mr. Tate knows his man and promises that if he makes another visit there he will not get many potatoes but will find a real surprise awaiting him.

LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP RESIDENT DIES

Frank Carno, aged about 54 years, died at his home in Lawrence township, along the Rockton road, about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, following an illness of about two weeks' duration, the result of a stroke of apoplexy.

The deceased, who was the son of John Carno, was born and raised in the region where he died and spent all his life in this section. He followed farming and lumber and was a quiet, inoffensive man, and had many friends, who will be pained to learn of his death.

He is survived by his widow Mrs. Nettie Carno. His father, four brothers and three sisters also survive, as follows: James, Otis, John and W. P. Carno, Mrs. Lloyd Williams, Mrs. Connie Thompson and Mrs. Ashley Shaw, all residing in Lawrence township.

The funeral will be held from his late home Wednesday afternoon. Interment will be made in the Owens cemetery.

IRISH BOUNDARY DISPUTE FORCES PARLIAMENT TO MEET EARLIER

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
London, Sept. 30.—Parliament re-assembled today after a seven week recess and its first business will be a deal between Ulster Province and the Irish Free State. Next it will take up the Anglo-Russian treaty.

Both these issues will test the strength of the Laborite Government. Premier Ramsay MacDonald has threatened to precipitate another General election if the treaty is repudiated.

Normally the House of Commons would have assembled October 28, but the growing seriousness of the Irish problem led to an earlier meeting.

It was expected that Premier MacDonald would move second reading of the bill-empowering the Government to create a border commission without Ulster's consent before today's session ended. Despite the expected term of opposition from the tory "die hards" government leaders anticipate passage of the bill. The real difficulty will come when effort is made to enforce the decisions of the commission. After passage of the bill, Commons probably will take a recess for a fortnight. Then the Anglo-Russian treaty will be taken up. This will be the signal for another storm.

The bitter controversy over the Ulster-Free state frontier arose from Article 12 of the Anglo-Irish treaty, dated December 6, 1921. This article states that the boundary shall be drawn "in accordance with the wishes of the inhabitants, so far as may be compatible with economic and geographical conditions."

By EDWARD ALDEN JEWELL
Written Especially for International News Service

Dublin, Sept. 30.—Eamon De Valera, leader of the Irish Republicans, in an exclusive interview with International News Service today declared that Ulster must come under the jurisdiction of a Supreme Irish Parliament at Dublin. This is the first review granted by De Valera since his release from prison and it comes at a timely moment as the English Parliament met at London today to take up the Free State-Irish Boundary dispute.

De Valera claims that a Republic already exists in Ireland. All Ireland he said, must be one sovereign state. "We will not admit that any part of the territory of this nation can be cut off from the national state," said the Republican chieftain. "The position of the Republican cabinet always has been this. We are willing to grant Ulster a parliament for its own local affairs with as large a measure of autonomy as is consistent with unity and the sovereignty of the Irish state. We are willing to give similar parliaments to Munster, Leinster and Connaught."

GREAT NATIONAL RALLY IS PLANNED FOR ALL CHURCHES

October 5th Is Date Set For Beginning Effort to Build Up Interest Until Easter Holidays.

UP TO THE LAYMEN

Washington, Sept. 30.—To awaken a greater interest in the church on the part of all America is the object of the joint evangelistic campaign of many church bodies working under the leadership of the Commission on Evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches announced recently. It will be launched in most sections on Sunday, October 5, and continue till Easter.

The endeavor will be much wider than a "Go to Church" campaign, the necessity of church attendance will be stressed. Four things will be attempted by churches, taking part during the coming fall, winter and spring, according to church leaders. They are:

1. A friendly visitation to the homes of each community throughout the country.
2. A personal invitation to unaffiliated men and women to join the church.
3. A Rally Day to call back to the church from summer vacation all church members.
4. The training of laymen for personal evangelism.

October 5 has been suggested as Rally Day for the simultaneous launching of the program throughout the country. The findings and plans of the "evangelistic effort," decided upon at a retreat held by the Commission on Evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches at Northfield last June, have just been published. They were worked out during the summer by the denominational secretaries for evangelism and church leaders.

During recent years the period preceding Easter has come to be generally accepted as the time for concerted emphasis on strengthening the local congregation. The church leaders believe that there should be similar period of intensive effort this fall.

Under the plans sent to the churches, preliminary work will begin at once. Surveys will be made in a large number of communities by groups of churches or by single churches where there is only one or when one only takes part in the movement. Committees will work on lists of possible church members.

An effort will be made on "Rally Day" to secure the attendance of all members, adherents and those who have "lost interest" at the services and seek to interest them in church work.

This campaign will differ from most in that it will not be carried on by a visiting preacher or by the minister alone. It is proposed that the laymen shall do most of the work under the direction of the pastor.

In summing up the effort for Rally Day, Dr. Charles L. Goodell, secretary of the Federal Council's Commission on Evangelism, said the plan has two objectives: "First, to re-interest the absentee church member who does not take church attendance seriously as a duty. "Second, to secure the attendance of every possible person in the community who is not now a church member."

VISIT OLD HOME SCENES

Mrs. Victorine Rousselo, a former resident of Frenchville, and her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Preston, of Kansas City, Kansas, who were called east on account of the death of Mrs. Caroline Mulson, of Akron, Ohio, sister-in-law of Mrs. Russell, came to this section after the funeral to visit relatives. While in Clearfield they stopped with Mrs. Russell's nephew, John A. Leigey, on Nichols street, and left for home Monday.

Mrs. Russell is enjoying excellent health despite her 86 years. This was her first visit here in thirty-one years.

Butler's Return To City Hall Delayed Till Friday; General Is Very Weak

Philadelphia, Sept. 30. (INS).—General Smedley D. Butler's return to city hall to hear his fate from Mayor Kendrick probably will not occur before Friday, according to the latest reports from his physician, Police Surgeon Hubley R. Owen.

The extent to which the general's activities in cleaning up Philadelphia have sapped his strength was indicated by the announcement the fighting marine now weighs only 118 pounds, a loss of 40 pounds since coming here.

General Butler's law enforcement activities were given great commendation last night when a resolution of praise was passed unanimously by 4,000 persons at the "town meeting" held to protest his dismissal as safety director.

The resolution, according to its wording, was passed "with the kindly intent of a friendly but aroused citizenry."

WASHINGTON JUST NATURALLY GOES 'BUGS' ON PENNANT

For 23 Years Loyal Capital Fans Have Been Looking Forward to Having a Flag Winner.

BOY MGR. A HERO

By GEORGE BARRY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Sept. 30.—This town is crazy—just gone plain, plumb baseball crazy.

For nearly a quarter of a century, 23 years to be exact, chief justices of the United States Supreme Court, members of a half dozen cabinets, senators whose names have been forgotten, and the myriad underpaid government clerks who make up the national capital, have been shoving their quarters, halves and dollars thru the wicket at American League, hall park hoping to see a Washington team that could do something besides get licked by seven other teams.

And now they've got a pennant winner. And a world's series. At last Washington is known for something else besides Presidents and monuments, scandals and income taxes, politicians and parades.

There is a Santa Claus, after all. And he has come to this town. No longer will that ancient wheeze reverberate around the smoking car: Washington, oh, yes. First in peace, first in war, and last in the American League.

The town is crazy. If Bucky Harris, the 27-year-old manager of Washington's first pennant winning team, succeeds in out-guessing John McGraw and winning the world's series they might just as well transfer the national capital to Kokomo, Ind., for Washington won't be able to function as a regular national capital for years to come.

It was 4:22 p. m. when the wires carried the flash into Washington that the Nationals had won from the Red Sox at Boston and clinched the flag.

BETTING EVEN MONEY ON THE SERIES

New York, Sept. 30.—Little betting on the world series has been reported along Broadway to date but the consensus of opinion was that even money should be prevailing prices when play is called in the opening game. Professional gamblers were of the opinion that the Senators should be favorites at 6 to 5.

In support of this contention, one sizeable bet of $1,500 to $1,600 on Washington has been reported.

Mrs. Hall Given Indeterminate Sentence To Muncy Reformatory; Husband To Prison For 3 Years

Miss Anstead To Speak At Important Health Meeting At Altoona

Altoona, Sept. 30.—A greater effort to save some of the nearly 300 Pennsylvanians killed annually by tuberculosis through an extension of the Christmas Seal sale will be considered at a conference to be held in Altoona at the Penn-Alto on Wednesday, October 1st.

This conference will be under the direction of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society and consideration will be given to plans for the 1924 sale of Christmas Seals through which the citizen effort against the white plague is carried on.

Rev. Frank T. Cady, of Tyrone, will preside, and among the speakers will be Dr. Philip P. Jacob, publicity director of the National Tuberculosis Association; Col. Henry W. Shoemaker, of Altoona; C. O. Smith, of Mt. Union; Mrs. C. E. Brown, Johnstown; Mrs. C. W. Montgomery, Altoona; Mrs. Ralph M. Wilson, Blairsville; Miss Stella E. Anstead, Clearfield. County tuberculosis societies in Blair, Cambria, Somerset, Bedford, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, Huntingdon and Mifflin are to be represented.

THE RED CROSS

Nothing Unusual About This Treatment For Law Breakers in This Age

New York, Sept. 30. (INS).—The sight of his own blood from a trifling wound today transformed a tough, hard-boiled burglar into a cry-baby and lost for him $25,000 worth of jewels with which he might easily have escaped.

The holdup was in the zone in which there have been so many similar jewel thefts in the last two weeks that the residents are in perpetual alarm—the fashionable upper East Side.

The robber had P. H. Higgins, Jr., prosperous broker and two friends at bay in the Higgins apartment house in East End street.

As the thief was about to escape, his small pistol was discharged accidentally. Blood began to seep from a minor thigh wound.

At the sight of the crimson, the burglar grew faint, sank to the floor and broke into tears, begging his victims who now were his captors and did not quite realize it, not to be too hard on him, since he had to support a sister married to a man who would not work.

His victims thoughtfully picked up his pistol and turned it on the intruder, after which they soothed him and bade him dry his tears. They lifted him tenderly into bed, put a nightgown on him, dressed his wound and applied restoratives, after which they told him he might escape. The burglar, however, insisted that he was in a bad way and be taken to a hospital. His hosts complied and he was carried to the Roosevelt Hospital, where the wound was found to be of so little consequence that it will not interfere with his being arraigned late this afternoon in court.

The prisoner said he was Paul Doyle, 18 years old.

WASHOUT OF BRIDGE AT SCRANTON FATAL TO 2, PROBABLY 3

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 30. (INS).—Search was on today for the bodies of two men and a woman believed to have been swept to their deaths at Permyr last night when a bridge over Rush River was washed away by the flood waters caused by the heavy rain of yesterday.

The men, Samuel Langman, prominent business man, and his brother-in-law, Emory Avery, were known to have been on the bridge along with a half dozen others when it was carried away. Conflicting stories, however, are told by the survivors about the woman believed to have perished. Her identity is not known.

Wm. Forkell, a survivor, is at a local hospital suffering from a broken leg received when he was carried down stream 100 yards and hurled against an obstruction in the stream before being rescued.

The victims were standing on the bridge watching the rush of the angry waters when it collapsed. The water was not above the river bank and the collapse was wholly unexpected.

Heavy damage was also reported from Carbondale, 15 miles away, where it has been raining steadily for 24 hours this morning. No lives were lost but the water was reported pouring into the mines of the Hudson Company.

PENNSY. GRAMS

Lewistown—E. E. Davis, Deputy warden of the western penitentiary at Rockview was held responsible by a coroner's jury for the death of John Mullen, who was shot and killed during an alleged drinking party last Friday. A first degree murder verdict will be asked when Davis' trial comes up, the District Attorney announced.

Homestead—"Labriating oil" in barrels is in the hands of prohibition officers today. The Volstead law officials found 100 barrels marked "oil" in a freight car yesterday. The contents were investigated. The barrels were shipped from Philadelphia according to divisional prohibition chief, G. J. Simons.

Huntingdon—The Hertzler and Zook plant, manufacturing farm implements at Belleville near here was in ruins today. Fire of unknown origin caused a loss to the plant of about $40,000 last night.

Philadelphia—Isaac Grinage, colored, was arrested here last night charged with being one of the bandits who murdered Jonathan Klop, when he discovered them robbing his store at Robesonia last week. Police say Grinage confessed as did two other men now being held at Reading in connection with the crime. Grinage is accused of being the man who fired the fatal shot.

Philadelphia—Two alleged dope ring leaders start sentences of 10 years each in the county jail today. The men, Nicholas and Louis Cimilli, were sentenced by Judge McDevitt yesterday. They were captured after fleeing to Takoma, Wash.

Philadelphia—Because Mayor Kendrick "sighted" him by not asking his participation in the welcome to President Coolidge on his recent visit here to speak at the Carpenters Company celebration, Col. John H. Muckle resigned today as the city's official interpreter. Col. Muckle was appointed chairman of the Citizens reception committee when the Mayor assumed office.

Mrs. T. A. Cramer received by express yesterday a box of fine apples which her son Ted picked from his uncle's ranch in the middle west. He will arrive today after spending three weeks in Mackinaw and Reed City, Cadillac and Grand Rapids, Mich.

Little Time Was Lost After Jury Selected In Determining Guilt and Imposing Punishment.

JURY OUT AN HOUR

The kidnaping case against Mr. and Mrs. Hall and the latter's father, Cyrus Fauzey, was disposed of in criminal court yesterday, it requiring a night session before the verdict was returned.

Cyrus Fauzey was found to be a victim of circumstances and as there was no evidence to show that he even knew little Billy Parker, who was found in the old man's possession at the hunting camp, had been kidnaped or abducted, the Commonwealth agreed that he should be allowed to go free before a verdict was rendered.

At the noon recess but eight of the twelve jury men had been chosen. It did not take long after court called in the afternoon to get the needed four. The following composed the jury:

- Orbas Flood, of Covington twp.
- Albert Herring, of Gulch twp.
- U. B. Bishop, of Bradford twp.
- J. B. Allen, of Gulch twp.
- Harry Jasper, of Beccaria twp.
- L. Z. Smeal, of Pike twp.
- E. A. Beigleman, of Bradford twp.
- John W. Kriner, of DuBois.
- Paul F. Beck, of DuBois.
- Frank Falls, of Sandy twp.
- Charles I. Sawyer, of Jordan twp.
- Charles Daisher, of Bell twp.

The testimony was brief on both sides. Mrs. Florence Parker told the story of Mrs. Hall's coming to the Children's Home last March and prevailing upon the mother to allow her to take the child to her home near Big Run for a few days. The manner of her acquisition of little Billy made the kidnaping charge impossible to maintain and the jury was informed that Mr. and Mrs. Hall could be held for but abduction alone, the second count in the indictment against them.

District Attorney Arnold and J. Mitchell Chase were the prosecuting attorneys and soon had their evidence before the court and jury. The attorneys for the defense, Messrs. Clarence Kramer and Ross Pentz were equally speedy and all the testimony was in by 5:15 o'clock, at which time Attorney Kramer began his argument for the defense. He was followed by Mr. Chase for the prosecution, after which Judge Chase made his charge to the jury. The jury was given the case at 7:30 o'clock and retired to the jury room to begin their deliberations. They were a little more than two hours in arriving at their verdict. The found both Mr. and Mrs. Hall guilty of abduction.

Judge Chase summoned the prisoners to the bar and sentenced them at once. Hall was directed to pay $1.00 fine and costs and serve not less than three and one-half nor more than seven years in the penitentiary. Mrs. Hall was given an indeterminate sentence at the State Industrial Home at Muncy.

The Hall's were cleaned up and better dressed when they appeared in court than when they were brought in from the mountain berry patches at the time of their arrest, and did not appear to be the least bit worried or excited about it. Hall was dolled up in the clothes of one of the colored prisoners at the jail, who volunteered his "glad rags" to the abductor in order that he might present a respectable front when called before the court. A woman prisoner was similarly kind to Mrs. Hall.

After being placed in jail Mrs. Hall told a Progress reporter that "while she did not want her husband punished by being sent to jail, no person knew what she had gone through."

BREAK AVERTED IN DISPUTE WITH JAPS ON PEACE PROGRAM

Geneva, Sept. 30. (INS).—The Japanese dispute which threatened to wreck the League of Nations peace plans was virtually settled today when Japan and Australia accepted a compromise formula dealing with the aggressor clause of the arbitration protocol.

The formula in question which is based upon Article XI of the League of Nations covenant, was carefully examined at a secret meeting of British, French and Japanese delegates. Article XI deals with international dangers wherein war is threatened. This formula gives Japan the constitutional right, under the League covenant, to appeal to the League council if she believes war is threatened. It gives other members of the League the same right.

An amendment will be drawn, based upon the formula, for insertion in the arbitration protocol.

Beary Is To Supervise The Distribution Of War With Germany Cannons

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 30. (INS).—Appointment of a committee headed by Adjutant General Frank D. Beary to supervise distribution of the captured German war material was made today by Governor Pinchot.

The committee will meet soon, Adjutant General Beary announced, to pass on the scores of requests from cities, towns, boroughs, village posts and patriotic societies for a portion of the captured war trophies. Cannon, howitzers and siege guns are especially sought.

The seven members of the commission served with the various Pennsylvania units in the world war. The selection was made with a view of giving the largest number of ex-soldiers representation on the board through their former officers. It was indicated towns, boroughs and cities will be given preference over organizations.

1,000 Feet Of Reading Roadbed Swept Out By Flood Near Harrisburg

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 30. (INS).—One thousand feet of the Reading railroad roadbed through Clark's valley was washed away today by Stony Creek, which went on a rampage flooding the entire valley and isolating several villages.

Hundreds of telephone poles and several bridges across the creek were washed away, destroying all communication with Singerville, a little town in the valley, fourteen miles from here.

Walkenmyer's dam is threatened hourly by the ever rising stream. The valley for more than a mile is covered with water in places twenty feet deep. Many farms bordering the valley are under water and thousands of dollars worth of crops and livestock endangered.

At ten o'clock this morning 3.5 in. was still pouring. The Susquehanna ches of ruin had fallen here and it river has been rising a foot an hour and if the rain continues, the weather man says there is danger of a serious flood.

All the tributaries of the Susquehanna in this region are beyond their banks.

Many summer cottages are reported to be under water along Stony Creek, Yellow Breeches and the Conodoginet.

with him during the past couple of years and she would like very much to have him out of her life." Her wish has been granted for three and one-half years at least. Hall served a term in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga. For kidnapping and his previous record no doubt had something to do with the severity of his sentence this time.

Think of the dire consequences if we should all send to the mail-order houses for our luxuries and our necessities. How long would it be before the Clearfield merchants would have the "Closing out sale" signs on their doors, to be followed by the "For Sale" signs on the stores themselves. And when the business houses were all advertised for sale what would be the result, what would be the value of our own houses and lands?

Of course such a calamity will not prevail in Clearfield because we have enough loyal citizens who would prevent it. But that does not excuse those of us who are following this practice of sending our money to the big cities. Chicago merchants' money does not pave Clearfield streets. Schools, churches, streets and all city improvements in Clearfield are not made and never will be made by Chicago merchants. The more money there is in Clearfield the less the tax rate will be. Money sent to Chicago, New York and other large cities increases the wealth there with a corresponding decrease here.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Leif Ericson Day will be observed on October 4 in many parts of the country in honor of the Iclander who discovered our country in the year 1000, landing in New England, which he called Vinland.

A letter written in 1823 by Noah Webster, author of the dictionary which is said to have prevented the United States from becoming a nation speaking many dialects, in which the writer refers to his plans to secure a reception for his work in England, has been given out by John Stort Thompson, of Jersey City.

The communication, which is described as hitherto unpublished, was addressed to Charles R. Webster, a cousin of Noah, and was found by Mr. Thompson among the papers of the cousin. It reads as follows:

New Haven, Sept. 24, 1823

Dear Sir:
"I expected you would call upon me the morning you left New Haven, but you disappointed me and I must write what I want to say to you. You must have heard that I have been many years in compiling a complete dictionary of our language. My researches have been laborious and extensive, and I think fruitful in discoveries. As I am drawing toward the conclusion of the work, I think of going to England next summer to revise and complete the work and try to obtain a reception of it in that country.

But my resources are too scanty for such an undertaking and I want to avail myself of all my extra means. I have on hand a new book of my own publishing, entitled 'Letters to a Young Gentleman Concerning His Education,' some of which I think may be sold in Albany. The retail price is $1.75, the work being a thin octavo. The sheet price is ninety cents, and for a hundred or more I would say eighty cents. Now, Sir, will not Webster and Skinner assist me by taking 100 or 200, either bound or in sheets, bound at $1.25, in sheets at eighty cents? If you will, it will very much oblige me.

My dictionary has cost me twenty-six years of labor and about $30,000. If I succeed I shall reimburse myself and be able to compensate all my friends for their advances. If I should fail, I shall be left in my old age with all means for subsistence. Please to present our kind respects to Mrs. W. and other friends.

Yours with affection and respect, ing child welfare and care of the poor in Pennsylvania is urged by a committee investigating treatment of dependent and delinquent children in Pennsylvania for the Child Welfare Division of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania.

According to investigations, there are approximately 96,000 dependents and delinquent children in the State, of which only 20,793 are in charge of institutions; seventy-five per cent of these are in care of institutions not receiving State aid. In addition to these, more than 81,000 are placed in homes other than their own, including 4422 delinquents and more than 27,000 dependents. Almost 2000 are paroled to correctional schools; approximately 16,000 are cared for by the State fund for mothers' assistance, and approximately 15,000 are in care of probation officers.

In various counties, the committee reports, children of one and two years are placed in the almshouse, and most of the older children committed to the county homes lack suitable education because the amounts granted by boards of poor directors are not sufficient to bear tuition and maintenance costs. After only cursory examination, the report says, many of the children are held to be feeble-minded and retained in county almshouses. The indenture system is still followed in some counties, where the children are bound out, usually to farmers, to be supported until 16, 18 or 21 years of age in return for such labor as the farmer may be able to obtain from the children. There is little inspection to see whether the children have been suitably placed, the report finds, because as a rule officers in charge are very poorly paid for

Warning that fatigue involves dangerous complications oftentimes resulting in a nervous breakdown, is sounded by Dr. J. H. Arnett, Philadelphia, in a weekly health talk prepared in co-operating with the State Department of Health.

"If someone were to tell you seriously that you did not know when you were tired," says Dr. Arnett, "you no doubt would be inclined to receive this piece of information in much the same spirit as though you had been told that you did not know enough to come in out of the rain."

"But this is a fact, as many physicians can testify. Frequently they encounter an inability on the part of their patients to recognize the symptoms of fatigue."

"Fatigue visits the human race in various and sundry guises. 'The blues', 'a grouchy', 'nervousness', 'headaches', 'dizziness', 'faintness', and many other diverse sensations of discomfort may be due to fatigue. Strangely enough fatigue fills some people with nervous energy, so that the more tired they become, the less they can be persuaded to rest."

Proper precaution when fatigue is recognized is just as important as a realization that you are tired, the doctor said.

COOLIDGE AND LABOR

The action of the New Jersey State Federation of Labor in refusing to concur to the action of Samuel Gompers and the American Federation of Labor, proves conclusively that the time is past when Labor will vote as directed. The laboring man of the present is well able to think for himself and will go to the polls in November and vote as his own thoughts indicate.

That the Republican party is a traditional friend of Labor is a fact that has been brought to the realization of every laboring man in the country through the long list of favorable Labor Bills legislated during the terms of Presidents Harding and Coolidge, and the following excerpt from a letter written by Joseph P. MacArdle, head of the Labor Bureau, Eastern Division, of the Republican National Committee, to W. G. Lee, Chairman of the Brotherhood of R. R. Trainmen, tells in its own sincere way just where President Coolidge stands and has stood; since the time of his first entering public office, on the question of favorable Labor legislation:

"I was further pleased to attend this meeting at the 'White House', with a good sized party of members in good standing in the various Labor organizations, (established in every instance without a 'Pump' organization of any kind or description being represented) and listen to the best address which has been delivered on the Labor question since Lincoln made his famous address on a similar question at New Haven, Conn., in 1860. It is true that most of the men present held, in their respective organizations, humble positions comparatively, and from that of local chairmen, business agents, to vice-presidents, and coming from down on the ground floor close to those they represent in every day contact, they heard the story from the lips of the President, and took it back home to all sections—a story that will go down in the annals of history in America as being the broadest and most liberal recognition of the rights of American labor unions as ever came from the lips of a chief executive of our country, AND THE NEXT PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, CALVIN COOLIDGE. Labor never had a better friend at the White House, and no man who ever graced the chair of the Chief Executive of State in our country, who ever proved a better or more sincere friend of men engaged in train and switching service on our railroads than President Coolidge in his capacity as Governor of Massachusetts, and the records prove this absolutely. I want to congratulate you on the neutral stand you have taken as the President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and your recognition of the free-born American right of the membership to vote according to their honest convictions."

The Test Of Character

The president of a big corporation gave this reason why his company employed salesmen on a commission basis only:

"It's the best test of character we can apply. If a man hasn't saved enough money to carry himself for a month or so he's rarely the kind who can measure up to the opportunity we offer."

Why not take a fixed amount out of your salary every pay day and put it to work in an interest bearing account at this bank? It will then enable you to grasp opportunity when it comes.

Pay yourself first—it's the sensible thing to do.

GYM. RALLY FOR BOYS TONIGHT

All is set for the opening of the gym classes at the Y. M. C. A. this week and next as announced by physical director Shannon today. To start things going the younger boys from twelve to fourteen hold sway tonight when a gym rally will be staged giving every boy in Clearfield between the above ages the privilege of taking part in a two hour program of social games and swimming. Nearly four hundred tags have been passed out by the Y boys who have engaged in a contest during the past few days in which the boy having the most of his tickets returned will be awarded a gift Y. M. C. A. pen. In addition to wearing his tag, every boy should bring with him a pair of old stockings or socks and a towel. No one will be allowed on the gym floor with street shoes. There will be some older boys on the job and a full supervision will be given every ill, in the swimming pool. The program will be as a surprise and will not be announced before hand.

The older boys including the Business boys and Intermediates and their friends will start activities on Thursday night with a special program in the gymnasium. No special request has been made but all members have the privilege of asking their friends to come with them and enjoy the evening in the gym and swimming pool.

The Junior girls will meet on Friday afternoon at 2:35. Exits at 7:30 and the Cadets Saturday morning at 9. The Young Business men on Monday afternoon at 5. Seniors at 8. Intermediate girls Tuesday at 4. Business Men at 5. Free is admitted to the first class session free.

FRISCH AND GROH STEADILY IMPROVING

New York, Sept. 30 (INS).—The condition of Frank Frisch and Heinie Groh, injured infielders of the New York Giants, was reported today as improving. Frisch is regarded as an almost certain starter at second base for the Giants in Saturday's opening game but Groh's ability to play will not be ascertained until he attempts to place some strain on his injured leg.

In the event that Groh fails to round up, Fred Lindstrom, recruit infielder, will occupy third base.

BARNIE KINKHEAD WINS BOWLING FIRST DAY

The Community Y. M. C. A. Bowling Alleys made a splendid start for the opening day of the bowling season with 26 different contests up for the first day. Barnie Kinkhead won the afternoon Lloyd Shankle made 145 in his second game which held until at night when R. W. Kinkhead came in lead with 187 for single. Elmer Warner and J. R. Williams in the following game had aspirations for the prize but finished out with 171 and 153 respectively. The triangle problem was awarded to R. W. Kinkhead.

Several experienced bowlers declared the alleys to be exceptionally fast to start the season, in fact, the balls literally lit down the alleys, and the Hooks and Curves did not have much effect. This with the fact that new pins, that reflected on the polished alleys, were hard to knock down. But ask Ralph Kinkhead how to do it; he succeeded in knocking them down nine times out of ten, with three strikes and nine pined.

The alleys will continue open from 4 to 6 and 7 to 10 p. m. and if the call warrants it, continuously from 4 to 10; Saturdays open at 1:30. Tournaments will be popular against this season, one man having his Industrial team already lined up the plan is to hold the Community Church League previous to the Community Industrial League in Bowling.

She Threw Away Calomel and took Beecham's Pills

"I felt so miserable," said the young woman cashier in a fashionable New Jersey hotel. "A friend suggested calomel and I was about to take it."

"Another friend noticed the calomel on my desk and cautioned me against it. She said her sister took calomel and ate some fruit and the combination 'salivated' her—loosened some of her teeth and made her very sick."

"Fearing that my stomach might be in an acid condition, I bought a 25c box of Beecham's Pills and took a dose. The next day I felt fine and I haven't needed anything during the three weeks since."

"I wouldn't take anything but Beecham's now. Some of the other girls here take Beecham's and all say they are wonderful."

Washington Just Naturally Goes 'Bugs'

It had been raining all day, a cold, heavy downpour that penetrated with the chill of winter.

Yet in front of three electric score boards, before as many newspaper offices, stood thousands of people, watching the flickering lights that told of the end of the quarter century of waiting for a winner. They took their drenching stoically. They cheered dully as the Nats went into the lead, and groaned dismally when Boston threatened. And then, when the flash came, the downtown section horns tooted, whistles shrieked.

No President, no princely potentate, no king, no frock coated foreign minister has ever been received with more acclaim than Bucky Harris and his baseball team are going to be received when they arrive here on Wednesday to prepare for the series. It sounds exaggerated, but it's true.

Historic Pennsylvania Avenue, which has reverberated to the great parades in history, which has seen Grant's men home from the wars, the inaugural parades of all Presidents, and the classic military and naval processions of the nation, will at last witness a baseball parade. And in the reviewing stand, just as for other great processions, will be the President of the United States to bid welcome to the home comers.

The calvary from Fort Myer, across the Potomac is going to turn out. At the head of the procession will be 12 beautiful debs of Washington society, mounted on 12 white chargers. And there will be scarlet coated huntsmen from the Hunt clubs. And automobiles, and back of these thousands of marchers on foot.

That's what the national capital thinks of winning a baseball pennant. They're going to give Walter Johnson, the veteran pitching ace of the Nats, a limousine, raised by popular subscription. The dollars of the cabinet officers and the dimes of girl clerks in the government departments want to buy that machine. And Harris and the rest are going to get theirs, too.

Rain or shine, it will make no difference in the welcome to the Nats, for in the size of the crowd that will see the first game of the world's series next Saturday. The weather man was dubious today. He wouldn't forecast fair weather. It probably would be "unsettled" he said. But damp weather is no dampener for Washington's baseball spirit. That's already been proven.

Offices of the club are swamped with applications for tickets. The park is not large, and there will be difficulty in finding accommodations for all those who are demanding tickets.

But Washington doesn't care. It has a pennant winner—after 23 years.

MICKLEY WALKER A FAVORITE

Philadelphia, Sept. 30 (INS).—Mickley Walker is favored to retain his world's welterweight title tonight in a ten round bout with Bobby Barrett, local contender. The fight is to an official decision and although made at catch weights, Barrett plans to enter the ring at 147 pounds and thus qualify for the title if he beats Walker.

The betting, however, is all in favor of the champion.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL MARRIES

Miss Malessa Shacklett and Mr. Green, of Louisville, Ky., were married Sept. 20, 1924. Miss Shacklett lived in Clearfield for several years and made many friends while here. Mr. and Mrs. Green will reside in Louisville.

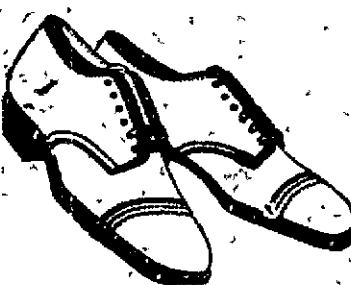

Bob Gray, the storage battery man, is running around with his good right arm in a sling, the result of an accident at the dinner table the other day. We have "Hobe" White's authority for the statement that Bob in a hurry to get his dinner over, sunk his table lamp into the biggest potato on the dish. The darn thing rolled with him and his arm was wrenched in the tussle.

SLIGHT MOTOR TROUBLE DEVELOPS ON ZR3

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 30. (INS).—Fresh motor trouble developed on the Zeppelin ZR-3 which will delay the departure of the giant ship for the United States. It had been hoped to start for Lakehurst, N. J., about next Sunday. The dirigible will be turned over to the United States navy at Lakehurst.

The motor trouble, which is similar to the recent defection, was discovered while the airship was being carefully overhauled.

Former King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, who is here visiting the Zeppelin plant, expressed intense admiration for the ZR-3. After looking the giant airship over, he exclaimed:

"I wish I could fly to America upon this ship."

Rheumatism

"Yes! it's all gone."

DO NOT close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. You can get rid of your rheumatism by building up your blood power. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful, than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical. S.S.S. Makes You Feel Like Yourself Again

Canned Pickles The Home Variety

Nothing in the store can compare.

Little Willie's first question is, "Mom, how long must they stand before we can open them?" A most fitting compliment to mother's fame as a canner of nature's good things.

Canners have approached and almost replaced mother's efforts when it comes to canned fruits, but pickles—never! Who ever ate a commercial canned pickle that tasted as crisp and good as mother's?

BANK BANDITS ACTIVE IN ILLINOIS

Dowell, Ill., Sept. 30. (INS).—Four bandits swooped down on the bank of Dowell this noon, struck Cashier W. A. LaFont over the head with a gun, shot a bank guard in the eye and the village marshal through the neck and escaped in an automobile with $1,500 cash.

GRAMPIAN WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Agnes Dougman, a most highly respected Grampian resident, and wife of W. G. Dougman, passed away Sunday evening at the Clearfield hospital.

She is survived by her husband and six children. The funeral will be held from the Friends Church at Grampian Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment in Friends cemetery.

Constipation can ruin your health—get permanent relief with Kellogg's Bran

When clean and clear, the intestine is converting wholesome food into vigorous health. But when clogged by constipation, it generates poisons from the obstructed food that can lead to many serious diseases.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It has a natural, healthy action. It works exactly as nature acts. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer will return your money.

Results with Kellogg's Bran are sure, for Kellogg's is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is endorsed by doctors everywhere. Eat it and you need never take another habit-forming drug or pill.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, should be eaten regularly—at least two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. You will enjoy eating it. Kellogg's Bran has a wonderful flavor, a delicious nut-like flavor. And this flavor is an exclusive Kellogg achievement.

There are many ways to enjoy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Eat it with milk or cream as a cereal. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it, with hot cereals. Look for the red dot on every package and try it in muffins, griddle cakes, bran bread, etc.

Bring back your health with Kellogg's Bran. Start to-day! Every member of your family should eat it. The leading hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. It is made in Battle Creek, Sold by all grocers.

HAWAII AS THIS SOLDIER SEES IT

Fort Ruger, Honolulu, Hawaii, August 14, 1924.

Mr. J. D. Connelly, Dear Sir: The few things I am going to say in this short letter may and may not interest you and you can use your own good judgement as to printing it. In the first place I will introduce myself. I am a member of the 56th Coast Artillery which is the main coast defense of Hawaii, having both fixed and motorized artillery. My name is Melvin C. Nelson, and I hail from Clearfield Pa.

Some time ago I received a clipping from your Column entitled "Soldiering in Hawaii." In it, among other things, was the statement that there had been several indications of an earthquake on the Island of Oahu, which is the U. S. Army base of Hawaii. But as to an earthquake, there is not now has there been any signs of one here since the arrival of the U. S. Army in Hawaii.

There is an active volcano on the Island of Hawaii, off the Hila Bay, which is over 100 miles from here. The lava flow from it is constant but its greatest activity is in escaping steam and gas. One can advance over the lava beds to within a very short distance of it.

And as to the climate here I must say that it is about the most agreeable of any place I have been in and especially this far south. The position of the Island of Oahu is about 156 degrees latitude and about 23 degrees longitude. You will notice that is not much south of San Francisco, and while I was here I found it the most disagreeable climate I had ever encountered. Fort Ruger is situated about one mile from Honolulu, and is right at the base of an old crater which is just like a large amphitheatre. Inside are batteries of field defenses and also a very convenient rifle range. It is called "Diamond Head," and is the most westerly position of the United States.

The saying that Honolulu is the "Paradise of the Pacific" is not all bunk, if not all true. I can't say anything bad about it from my own experience, as I do not look for the bad but the good of the place. Of course one becomes used to seeing the native Hawaiians in their peculiar dress and there are many Japs and Portuguese; not many Chinese so far as I have seen.

There are many bad streets in the City of Honolulu, but one can avoid such places without any trouble.

Well, as I have no more time today, I will close, hoping you will find room in your column for this.

It Happens Every Day

When you're all set to be married to the Only One in this world and there isn't a thing standing between you and Mendelssohn's popular march except having to find somewhere to live when you start housekeeping—

And you want an apartment that is worthy of the domestic habitation of an Angel, and yet suitable to the modest income of a poor mortal like yourself—

And all the apartments you hear of are thoroughly occupied, or, if any of them are empty, it's because the rent would keep almost anybody except the Astorfellers from settling in them—

And you ask all your friends, but they haven't any helpful suggestions to make—and you're just about up a tree—

When you take a look through the Real Estate columns of the Progress and you find a number of apartments at your price and you look one of them up and it turns out to be small, but modern and just what you'd want for Her!

of city parks and playgrounds and other movements to make Pennsylvania the most attractive state of all. Keystone farmers and their wives are planning to improve the appearance of their places and make life more worth while "down on the farm."

They are doing it with the aid of the free services of the landscape gardening specialist added last summer to the agricultural extension staff of the Pennsylvania State College. He is Professor J. R. Bracken.

A few weeks ago he made a little off-hand sketch suggesting improvements to the farm home and grounds of J. R. Scott, near Cooperstown, Venango county. Now fourteen neighbors of the Scotts want his services. He is to meet all of them on November 13, following a "Community Work Day" on the 12th when the neighborhood one-room school house will be completely transformed and its grounds made over into a beauty spot. Bracken has been able to visit only about 28 of the 61 counties with exension organizations, but his engagement book is filled in solid for weeks to come as Pennsylvania farmers are preparing to "spruce up" the old homesteads.

Curwensville's Own Column

Mrs. Walter Doughman of Gram-pian, died in the Clearfield hospital Sunday evening from a complication of diseases, aged 56 years. Her body was brought to the morgue, where it was prepared for burial. She was survived by her husband and a family of grown children. Her funeral was held this afternoon from the Vienna Church. She was a daughter of George Willett, a former Curwensville resident, now of McCormick, Pa.

H. B. Thompson received word yesterday morning announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. William Ten Eyck, which occurred on Monday morning at home in St. James, Mo., aged 86. She was a daughter of John and Sarah Hartsock Thompson, and was born and reared in Curwensville, being west in about the year 1838. She is survived by two sons and two daughters, also by three brothers and one sister, namely: H. B. Thompson, of Clearfield, and W. H. Thompson, of St. James, Mo. Her funeral was held from her home today.

Ernest Norris left last Thursday for Baltimore, where he entered as a student at the University of Maryland on a business course.

Tate and wife and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Tate, left on Sunday for a day auto trip stopping at different points of interest in the north part of the state.

Sam and son and Miss W. Thompson, all of Buffalo, came on Saturday and the two first named guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Norris out on the farm. Miss Thompson is stopping with her brother, Howard Thompson.

Bernard Myer and bride came in on their honeymoon trip yesterday morning, and have established themselves in rooms in the Horabauz where their friends will receive a hearty welcome.

J. R. Mullen, employed in a responsible position on state highway construction work near Wilkes, Pa., is over Sabbath with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mullen, 14th Walnut street.

All members of the P. H. C. are requested to be present at a meeting to be held on next Friday evening. The supreme president of the order, Mr. Good, will be present at that time.

Dr. Miles Wall and wife took occasion last week and motored to Ebensburg, spending several days at the county fair.

Misses Janette Eckles and Jean Sample, who spent all of last week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Dornan, East George street, left for their respective homes in Mechanicsburg, Pa.

WE NAMED WRONG KIDDO

In our story of the award of the prizes at the baby show during the fair there was one mistake. As the winner of the second prize boy baby we were given the name of Robert Norris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lex Norris, of Gulich avenue. Despite the fact that we knew no such family (and we used to be able to boast that we knew everybody and everybody's cow and dog in the town) we were entirely too gallant or modest to contrary our informer and gave that name as the second prize winner.

Imagine our distress when we found we did a rank injustice to Master Robert Leland Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lex Miller, who walked off with that prize and had been kicking up his heels in glee over that fact ever since the judges made their announcement.

We humbly beg Bobbie's pardon.

"SIMON CALLED PETER"

"Simon Called Peter," a play of love, war and religion by Jules Eckert Goodman and Edward Knoblock from the novel of that name by Robert Keable, will be presented at the Driggs Theatre Tuesday, October 7th, under the management of William A. Brady.

The play, like the book, deals with actual conditions as found by an English curate who goes behind the lines in France as a war-pedro. How it finds a new sphere of life, a new type of woman and how he himself is carried into the whirlwind life of "Tommy" looking for pleasure and into the arms of love and passion are some of the things set forth in this dramatization of the novel.

The heroine of the play is Julie Gamelyn, a lovable optimistic war nurse whose charms are most alluring to the officers and men of the army who are put in her environment. This most realistic character is enacted by Catherine Willard who gains the love and endearment of every man who craves a woman's love, intoxication, wayward fancy and tenderness.

Noel Tearle portrays the war-pedro, Peter Graham, in a way that makes the part as described in the book most life-like. Among others in the cast are: June Webster, Wilfred Jessop, John Gray, Barlow Boreland, Robert Cecil, Jacqueline du Roidier, H. Tyrrell Davis, Richard de Silva, Dorothy Bertram.

and while we have never had a look at the other prize winners, we have seen Bobbie and are certain the judges made no mistake in their decision to give him the prize.

Origin of "Dungaree"

"Dungaree" comes from "Donglow," meaning Bengalee, or built in the style of the Bengalis, an East Indian tribe.

ster and Connaught if the people of these provinces desire them. "But all must accept and operate under the sovereign jurisdiction of one supreme parliament to which will be reserved certain well-defined national powers. There can be only one sovereign Irish state."

DeValera clearly indicated his belief that the free state is tottering and that the next general election would result in the return of a majority of Republicans to the Dail Eireann.

"From our point of view the Anglo-Irish treaty and all that has flowed from it is illegal," continued DeValera. "The Republic is the only legitimately established state in Ireland. We deny the right of foreign-derived authority in this country. With a Republican majority we would ignore all such authority and resist every effort at interference by foreigners."

DeValera said the Republicans elected to the Dail Eireann would refuse to take the oath. He declared if the Republicans obtained a majority in the Dail Eireann they would assume power and that in the future the Dail Eireann would function as a Republican body.

Although DeValera did not make a direct statement, he clearly indicated that he and the other Republicans intend for the present to rely upon constitutional methods and the ballot box to put themselves in power.

field on their farms. But E. M. Thompson, farmer extraordinary, of Home, Indiana county, is saying just that about his pasture which was rebuilt according to the latest scientific principles and with the aid of his county agent and State College agricultural extension specialists.

Thompson plowed his old pasture of 14 acres in the fall, two years ago. It had not been worth much before that. He applied about two tons of lime and 200 pounds of acid phosphate to the acre. He drilled about two and a half bushels of oats per acre together with a seed mixture of timothy, red top, blue grass, white clover, red clover and alsike. The out-crop was a dandy and a fine stand of pasture was obtained.

Fourteen Jersey cattle and 20 head of sheep have been unable to keep the grass eaten off since the first of June. County Agent J. N. Warner says that it is doubtful if Thompson will have to put any more expense on his pasture for the next 10 or 15 years.

BRUBAKER, ESCAPED CONVICT, CAUGHT AT HIS MOTHER'S HOME

Lewistown, Pa., Sept. 30 (INS.)—Harry Brubaker, who escaped from the Western penitentiary at Bellefonte, Sept. 21, was captured at Shawnee, near here this morning by County Detective M. A. Davis and two railroad detectives.

Search for the prisoners had never stopped since his escape. Scores of homes here were raided when Brubaker was thought hiding in them.

Today the officers went to Shawnee on a "tip" broke down the door of the home of Brubaker's mother, and found the wanted man hiding in the attic. A supply of food and water sufficient to last the man several days was found.

Brubaker was the man for whom E. E. Davis, Deputy warden of the Penitentiary was searching, when he killed John Mullen last Friday.

Stabbed Husband With Ice Pick To Ward Off His Drunken Attack

Pittsburg Pa., Sept. 29 (INS.)—Mrs. Margaret Gardner, 22, widow of Edward R. Gardner, 38, whose nude body was found in the bathroom of their home here yesterday, was released under $10,000 bail this afternoon. Mrs. Gardner was released by order of Coroner W. J. McGregor after she had been closely questioned concerning her husband's death.

McGregor and police authorities declared their belief in Mrs. Gardner's story that she was forced to stab Gardner with an ice pick to protect herself from his drunken attack.

During the potato stealing the thief dropped his white ivory comb, which he can get by calling at the Tate home and promising that he will never steal another potato. He is some potato eater and Mr. Tate knows his man and promises that if he makes another visit there he will not get many potatoes but will find a real surprise awaiting him.

We're Telling the World That Our Oysters Are Great

They come from the greatest oyster growing section in the world—Chesapeake Bay. They are only a few hours out of the water when we get them and our sales are so great that they don't linger around the store very long.

Big ones for frying, little ones for stewing.

MARY GORKY VERY ILL

London, Sept. 30. (INS.)—Maxim Gorky, the Russian novelist, who is suffering from tuberculosis and kidney disease, was reported to have suffered a relapse from which recovery is unlikely, according to advices today from Copenhagen.

Gorky was planning to visit the United States again this winter.

Mrs. Carrie Buchanan, Mrs. Ralph Ginger, and Bert Romano spent Sunday with Marlin Buchanan at Kiski.

Chas. Ardary is on a business trip to Glassboro, N. J.

LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP RESIDENT DIES

Frank Carno, aged about 54 years, died at his home in Lawrence township, along the Rockton road, about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, following an illness of about two weeks' duration, the result of a stroke of apoplexy.

The deceased, who was the son of John Carno, was born and raised in the region where he died and spent all his life in this section. He followed farming and lumber and was a quiet, inoffensive man, and had many friends, who will be pained to learn of his death.

He is survived by his widow Mrs. Nettie Carno. His father, four brothers and three sisters also survive, as follows: James, Otis, John and W. P. Carno, Mrs. Lloyd Williams, Mrs. Connie Thompson and Mrs. Ashley Shaw, all residing in Lawrence township.

The funeral will be held from his late home Wednesday afternoon. Interment will be made in the Owens cemetery.

FORMER RESIDENT ADVANCES

Matthew A. McGinness, who for nine years managed the Dimeling hotel at Clearfield, became assistant manager of the Hotel Allan at Pottsville, last week, going there from the Allan hotel, in Allentown, where he had been located the past year or more. Twenty years or more ago Mr. McGinness was employed at the Hotel Allan in a minor capacity going from there to the New American hotel, in Indiana, Pa. Later he became manager of the Dimeling hotel, in Clearfield, going from there to Allentown, and now is back in the Hotel Allan as assistant manager. Mr. McGinness is a non-lawyer of New York and is well known here through his frequent visits at the Schofield home. —Bellefonte Watchman.
